

Diploma Options in Oregon: It Is Never Too Early to Prepare!

The State of Oregon recently revised education laws and policies, changing the requirements for receiving a high school diploma. They have also offered students new opportunities for success through Modified and Extended Diplomas. Meeting these new requirements depends on parents, students and educators preparing for and understanding them. Come learn how your student will be impacted by these changes.

This workshop will present what the diploma options in Oregon are as well as the expanded options programs, credit requirements, and credit for proficiency. Participants will also discover which diplomas automatically qualify for federal financial aid, admission to the college and university system, and military service.
